Skill Level: 2

Time Investment: 1-2 hours

Step 1: To start, remove the rubber mat from above the radio. This will expose the one 7mm screw.

Step 2: Remove the 7mm screw from the dash.

Step 3: Gently pull down the knee bolster; it is only held in with retainer clips.

Step 4: You'll now see two 7mm screws to remove to the left and right of the steering wheel.

Step 5: With a pry tool, pop out the window controls. Use a screwdriver to push the red locking tab on the connector free so you can unplug the window controls. Place them off to the side.

Step 6: You'll now see another 7mm screw to remove from behind the window controls. Remove the screw.

Step 7: With a pry tool or your hands, pull the radio bezel free from its retainer clips. Place the bezel off to the side.

Step 8: We now can remove the factory radio. There are four 7mm screws holding the radio in the dash. Remove all four screws.

Step 9: Carefully disconnect the rear connections on the radio. There can be two or up to four connections to the rear of the radio.

Step 10: You can now pull the AC controls out of the dash, they do not need to be fully removed.

Step 11: Plug in the Uconnect Module then place it behind the AC controls.

Note: Zip tie the module down to help it not rattle in the dash.

Step 12: Route the harness up behind the radio cavity then snap the AC controls back into the dash.

Step 13: Continue to route the radio plug from our harness into the radio cavity. Zip tie the extra cable into a bundle and push it behind into the radio cavity.

Step 14: Take your factory radio plug and plug it into our harness.

Step 15: You'll have two connections from our harness that will plug into the rear of the radio.

Step 16: We routed the microphone to the center of the dash, but you can route it anywhere you think would be best or where you can be heard the best while on calls. Typically, this is put by the driver's sun visor. This takes routing the mic to the driver's pillar then over to the sun visor.

Step 17: You can now reinstall your radio into the dash. Make sure everything is plugged in firmly and correctly.

Step 18: Secure the radio in the dash with the same four 7mm screws you removed earlier.

Step 19: Snap the radio bezel back into the dash.

Step 20: Reinstall the one 7mm screw from behind the window controls back into place.

Step 21: Reinstall the two 7mm screws from both sides of the steering wheel.

Step 22: Reinstall the one 7mm screw from above the radio. Don't forget to put the rubber mat back into place.

Step 23: Reinstall the driver's knee bolster.

Step 24: Plug the window controls back in then push them back into the dash.

Step 25: Use the genie to program the vehicle for the new upgrade.

I. Put vehicle into the run position.

II. Wait 1 minute after putting the vehicle into run to plug in the genie programmer.

III. The genie once plugged in will flash blue as it tries to program.

IV. The genie will turn a solid green light once programming was completed successfully, programming can take 1-3 minutes long.

V. Remove the genie and give the vehicle a sleep cycle.

VI. Test out your new upgrade.

VII. Enjoy!

Step 26: Enjoy your purchase and again thank you for choosing Infotainment.com for your upgrades.
